Shifts in the Market Landscape

Key competitive dynamics shaping the LLM market in 2025

Chinese Models Break Through Globally

On OpenRouter, an international platform, Chinese provider models now account for over half of all usage (54.3% combined share). Xiaomi's MiMo series, DeepSeek V3, and MiniMax's M2 series hold a significant cost-performance advantage.

Flash/Turbo Variants Outpace Flagships

Step 3.5 Flash, GLM 5 Turbo, Gemini 3 Flash, and other 'fast and affordable' models see far higher usage than their flagship counterparts. Users are voting with their feet — speed and cost often matter more than peak performance.

Anthropic Growth Stalls Despite Top-10 Presence

Anthropic maintains two models in the top 10 (Sonnet 4.6 and Opus 4.6), combining for ~2T tokens weekly. However, both show near-flat growth (+0% and +2%), signaling a potential plateau in momentum.

Market Expansion: Weekly token usage on OpenRouter grew from ~2T to ~26T over the past year — a 13x increase, underscoring explosive demand for LLM inference.

Growth Drivers

MiniMax M2.7 (+253%)

Aggressive pricing and strong benchmark scores drove rapid adoption; the M2.5-to-M2.7 upgrade cycle is pulling users.

MiMo-V2-Pro (+165%)

Xiaomi's first major LLM release captured immediate demand with best-in-class cost-performance, topping the usage charts.

Cline (+128%)

An autonomous coding agent for VS Code, riding the wave of AI coding tool adoption — now one of the top apps by token volume.

Ampere (+576%)

A new entrant with explosive early growth — worth monitoring for sustainability.

AI Coding Agents Dominate

5 of the top 10 apps are coding tools

OpenClaw, Kilo Code, Claude Code, Cline, and Roo Code collectively represent the single largest LLM consumption scenario.

OpenClaw leads decisively

At 829B tokens/day, OpenClaw consumes nearly 3x the volume of the second-place app (Kilo Code at 271B).

Entertainment persists

Janitor AI and ISEKAI ZERO show that roleplay and gaming remain a notable usage category alongside productivity tools.

Key Insights and Industry Implications

1 Chinese Models Now Hold Dominant Share

Chinese providers capture 54.3% of token volume on a global platform. The cost-performance advantage of models like MiMo, DeepSeek V3, and MiniMax M2 is reshaping the competitive landscape — Western providers can no longer assume market leadership.

2 AI Coding Agents Are the #1 Consumption Scenario

5 of the top 10 apps are coding tools. LLMs have found their strongest product-market fit in developer tooling. This signals where the near-term revenue opportunity lies.

3 The Model Market Is Highly Fragmented

No single provider exceeds 30% share. The top 10 spans 8 different providers. Competition remains fierce and the landscape is far from settled — opportunity exists for new entrants and specialized players.

4 Fast & Affordable Beats Peak Performance

Flash/Turbo variants (Step 3.5 Flash, GLM 5 Turbo, Gemini 3 Flash) far outpace their flagship counterparts in real-world usage. Users prioritize speed and cost over maximum capability.
