Common Patterns: Customer Assistants, Employee Productivity, and Creative Scale

Three dominant patterns emerge across all 1,001 use cases — each representing a distinct entry point for enterprise gen AI adoption.

01

Conversational Customer Agents

The most visible entry point. Automotive, financial services, and retail all deploy AI-powered virtual assistants to handle queries, reduce wait times, and lower human agent workloads.

Key Examples:

Mercedes-Benz — MBUX Virtual Assistant
GM OnStar — intent recognition
VW myVW — multimodal manual queries
LUXGEN — 30% CS workload reduction
Commerzbank — easier agent reach

02

Employee Productivity Agents

The broadest category. Companies use Gemini for Google Workspace to summarize documents, accelerate research, draft content, review legal docs, and filter data across departments.

Key Examples:

Uber — CS communication summaries
Rivian — instant research & onboarding
Geotab — cross-functional productivity
Toyota — 10,000+ man-hours saved/year
Routematic — release cycles: weeks to days

03

Creative and Scale Agents

The fastest-growing frontier. Gen AI is moving from text into multimodal creative production at enterprise scale — video, ads, and brand assets.

Key Examples:

Virgin Voyages — thousands of hyper-personalized ads and emails via Veo
Figma — brand-approved images in seconds
PODS / Tombras — 6,000+ headlines in 29 hours
