Key Insights and Industry Implications

Real-world usage points to a fragmented, application-led LLM market where cost-performance and workflow integration matter.

1

Chinese models now dominate share

Chinese providers account for over half of OpenRouter usage, led by Xiaomi, MiniMax, Stepfun, DeepSeek, and Zhipu.

2

Coding agents are the demand engine

AI coding agents have become the single largest LLM consumption scenario; the top 4 apps are coding tools.

3

No outright winner yet

Top 10 models span 8 providers, and no provider exceeds 30% share — competition remains fierce.

4

Fast and affordable wins usage

Flash and Turbo variants far outpace flagship models in real-world usage as users optimize speed and cost.
