Provider Market Share Breakdown

Key Takeaways:

- Rise of Chinese providers: Combined share exceeds 54%.
  - Xiaomi leads decisively at 25.9%, more than double Google's share.
- * Note: Provider-level market share figures represent share of the total market across all models and apps.*

Shifts in the Market Landscape

Current Market Dynamics:

- Chinese models (Xiaomi, Stepfun, DeepSeek, MiniMax, Zhipu) now hold over 54% combined market share on this international platform.
- Anthropic's growth has stalled despite maintaining two models in the top 10.
- Flash/Turbo 'fast and affordable' variants far outpace flagship models in real-world usage.

This Week's Rising Stars: Fastest-Growing Models

| Model                | Provider              | WoW Growth |
|----------------------|-----------------------|------------|
| MiniMax M2.7         | MiniMax               | +253%      |
| MiMo-V2-Pro          | Xiaomi                | +165%      |
| Cline (coding agent) | Independent developer | +128%      |

Growth Drivers:

- Outstanding Cost-Performance: Chinese providers' Flash/Turbo variants are capturing rapid share.
- Specialized Use Cases: Coding agents like Cline are driving massive automated API usage.

App Ecosystem: Who's Calling These Models

| Rank | App         | Description                     | Daily Token Volume |
|------|-------------|---------------------------------|--------------------|
| 1    | OpenClaw    | AI productivity assistant       | 829B               |
| 2    | Kilo Code   | VS Code AI coding assistant     | 271B               |
| 3    | Claude Code | Anthropic's CLI coding tool     | 78B                |
| 4    | Cline       | VS Code autonomous coding agent | 69.1B              |

Analysis:

- AI coding agents have become the single largest LLM consumption scenario (top 4 apps).
- OpenClaw alone consumes 829B tokens per day — nearly 3× the second-place app.

Key Insights and Industry Implications

- 1. Chinese Models Dominate Globally
  - Over 54% combined market share, driven by strong cost-performance.
- 2. AI Coding Agents Drive Consumption
  - The top 4 consuming apps are all AI coding tools, representing the largest commercial value proposition today.
- 3. A Highly Fragmented Market
  - No single model or provider monopolizes the market; competition remains fierce.
- 4. 'Fast and Affordable' Wins
  - Flash/Turbo variants far outpace flagship models in real-world usage.
