Claude Code Spawns an Ecosystem: Skills, Guides, Switches, and Best Practices

Core vs broader

- Core Claude Code ecosystem tools: 5 repos (claude-code-best-practice, claude-howto, cc-switch, caveman, learn-claude-code).
- Broader set: at least 7 repos when including cross-listed projects serving Claude workflows (e.g., oh-my-codex, agent-skills).
- Signals rapid community formation around Claude Code extensions and operational playbooks.

Named repos reflect the source brief; broader set indicates "at least 7" Claude-related repos overall.

hermes-agent Draws 78 PRs and 42 Pushes — Community Activity Varies Widely

Top-heavy activity

- NousResearch/hermes-agent: 78 PRs and 42 pushes — dwarfs the rest.
- multica-ai/multica: 35 pushes and 7 PRs — second-most active.
- 8 of 20 repos have zero PRs — suggests early-stage virality vs mature collaboration.

Community Engagement

Scatter (Pushes →, PRs ↑)

High engagement: hermes-agent, multica

Token cuts

caveman (75% fewer tokens), rtk (60–90% fewer tokens).

- Developer tooling strategy: prioritize AI agent integrations, evaluation harnesses, and skill/plugin ecosystems.
- Community strategy: expect bursty early-stage repos (0 PRs) alongside a few high-collaboration flagships.
- Ecosystem watch: Claude Code appears to be catalyzing rapid “skills + guides + switchers” clustering.
- Signal to track next: growth in PR participation (not just stars) as the market consolidates.
