Takeaways: What These Trends Mean for Hiring & Retention

1

Full-time employment is softening

U.S. full-time hiring fell 4 pp YoY. Build contractor pipelines and revisit headcount models to include more flexible arrangements.

2

Hybrid is the new normal — in-person is creeping back

Hybrid (42%) still dominates, but in-person hit 20% in 2024 (up from 15% in 2022). Policy flexibility is key to retaining talent.

3

DevRel & SRE command premium compensation

Senior Exec ($127K), Dev Advocate ($124K), and SRE ($99K) top the salary table. Budget accordingly for critical reliability and developer-relations hires.

4

Niche language skills correlate with higher pay

Erlang, Clojure, and Elixir developers earn >$93K median — well above JavaScript ($64K) and PHP ($49K). Language portfolio matters in comp benchmarking.

5

Developers are purchase influencers — engage them directly

62% of developers influence tech buying decisions. Vendor and tools strategies should target ICs, not just executives, with trial-first approaches.
