What drove 2024 momentum

- Charts, Themes, Blocks, and Sidebar expanded UI depth
- New CLI improved setup and multi-framework support
- Copy-paste ownership model beats rigid component imports
- Reached 77.5k total stars by end of 2024

Frontend Frameworks: htmx Overtakes React in 2024

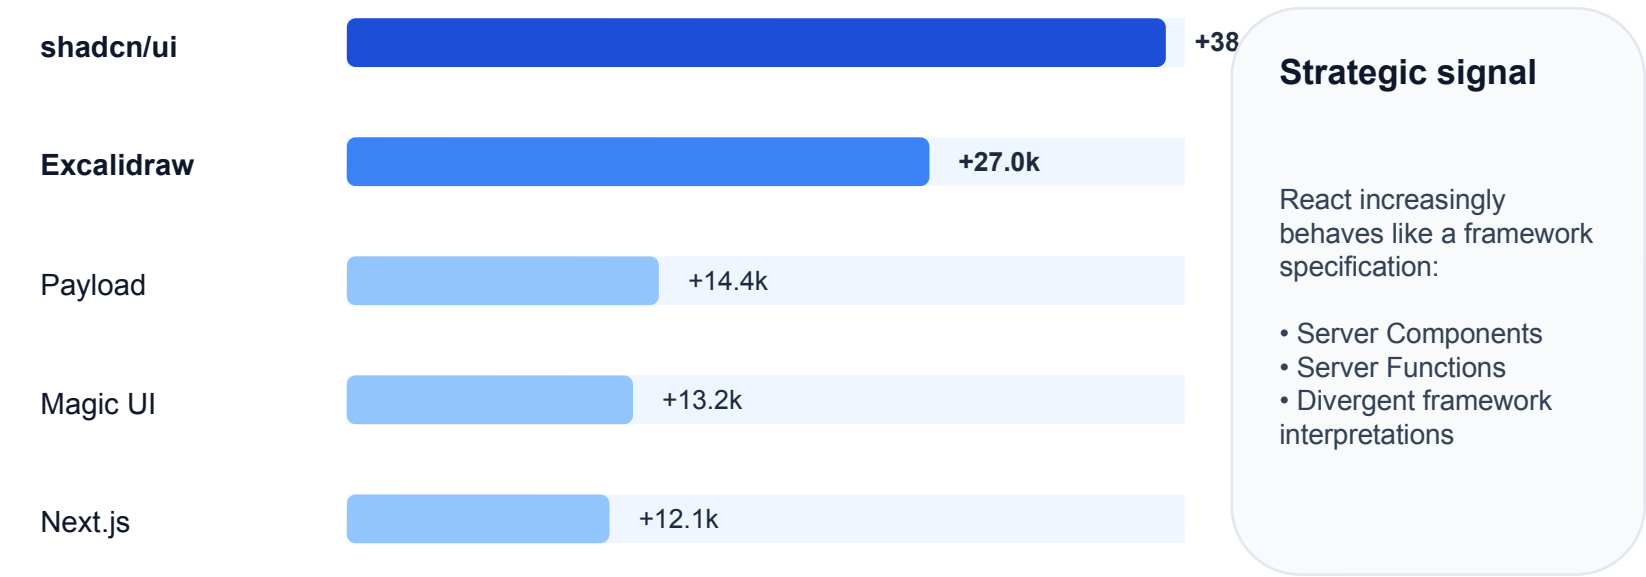

Interpretation

- htmx validates HTML-extension, server-driven architectures.
- React 19 landed with Server Components and Server Functions.
- Svelte and Vue remain healthy with focused, steady growth.
- Angular growth is positive but slower in relative momentum.

React Ecosystem Top 5 in 2024

shadcn/ui, Excalidraw, and Payload lead growth across React-adjacent tooling.

Vue Ecosystem Top 5: Growth and Maturity

Top Vue ecosystem projects (stars added)

1. Nuxt	+6.2k
2. PrimeVue	+5.4k
3. Slidev	+4.7k
4. shadcn-vue	+4.1k
5. VitePress	+3.7k

Ecosystem signals

- Vue 3.5 reworked reactivity internals
- alien-signals approach landed on main branch
- UI library momentum indicates ecosystem confidence
- Nuxt release cadence remains consistently active

Cross-Cutting Themes in 2024

AI tools, desktop runtimes, and browser-native capabilities all accelerated in parallel.

AI & Automation

n8n +17.0k
Flowise +14.5k
Supabase +14.5k
AFFiNE +17.1k

Desktop Apps

Tauri +15.9k
Web tech stack for lighter
desktop/mobile delivery

Browser Innovation

Key Takeaways for 2025 Planning

- Component ownership wins: shadcn/ui validates copy-paste customization over locked imports.
- HTML-first is mainstream: htmx topping framework star growth signals appetite for lower-JS patterns.
- React is a platform spec: React 19 primitives are increasingly interpreted through frameworks.
- AI is baseline product capability: toolchains and backends with AI hooks continue to compound adoption.
- Vue is maturing fast: strong UI library momentum plus reactivity improvements support larger bets.

Implication: optimize for adaptable architectures and fast iteration cycles as ecosystem velocity remains high.
